

"Connecting people who can help with those who can help them since 1992"

TVCRC serves all of Southwest Idaho by providing a vital link between those in need and the many human service agencies developed to assist them.

TVCRC trained volunteers focus on using the human touch to assist each client in a caring, friendly, effective manner with up-to-date information and the experience to guide the client through the maze of human services.

TVCRC provides a telephone contact service to clients in Southwest Idaho .

This service is accomplished by trained volunteers who are available
8 AM to 5 PM five days a week.

The volunteers work with each client to determine both immediate and long-term needs and provide referrals to agencies/programs that can enable the client to take charge of their own destiny. TVCRC volunteers are trained to guide clients to the appropriate combination of resources ie: information, referrals, case management and advocacy.
